

REVIEWS FOR HENNEPIN COUNTY LIBRARY AT HOME READERS

Reader Recommendations

Deep State*By Chris Hauty

Amid political turf wars, the White House chief of staff is found dead in his home. A young female army veteran, who is working as an intern, discovers a single ominous clue that suggests he didn't die from natural causes. She also learns of a plan to eliminate the president. This is an engrossing thriller, with a refreshing plot, and a surprise ending.

The Luckiest Man: Life With John McCain*By Mark Salter

This is a deeply personal and candid remembrance of the late senator. Although I never voted for him, I came to like him for his thumbs-down vote during his last days in office. After reading the book, I admire him very much for his life of service, years in the senate, and dedication to the U.S. I especially enjoyed having the book in a format that was much easier to read (large print).

Royal*By Danielle Steel

As the war rages on in the summer of 1943, the king and queen quietly send their youngest daughter, Princess Charlotte, to live with a trusted noble family in the country. I am very interested in British Royalty, and this was a taste of it. It was so great that the new-found princess kept her loyalty and love for her stepfather.
